

Amazon has provided a written submission to JPC; says the inability to appear misinterpreted

Amazon said in a statement that the inability of the consultant to travel to India among coronavirus restrictions “may have been misinterpreted” as the company’s unwillingness to emerge before the panel. And that their incompetence to appear has led to a misunderstanding and that they will work with the JPC (joint parliament panel) to set the record straight. “We will continue to occupy in any way the JPC considers fit”.