

Companies innovate UV devices, antiviral paint, and mattresses amidst COVID19

The first week of COVID19 saw the launch of sanitizers, disinfectants, and even vegetable cleaners. Companies like Eureka Forbes have launched a device called "Corona Guard" to fight against coronavirus with an efficiency of 99%. The company has rolled out its CG-10000 model, which is designed for large commercial spaces such as hospitals, banks, offices, and cafeterias to help open the economy by ensuring the safety of the workplace. Many companies are introducing specialized products from air-purifiers to disinfectant paints to fight the virus.