

Google CEO told his employees will work from home till July 2021

CEO Sundar Pichai has told his staff by email that they are extending their global voluntary work from home option till June 30, 2021. Facebook, Twitter, and Square have said that some employees will be able to work remotely permanently. Google has 123,000 employees as full-time working and another 122,000 temporary basis, vendors, and contract workers.