

China blocks US bid in UNSC on Hong Kong laws

A request by the US for a meeting in the United Nations Security Council regarding china's plan for new security laws in Hong Kong has been blocked by China. The law will impose many laws on mainland China in Hong Kong. China has said that it is an internal matter of China and called upon the US to stop its "Bullying practices and power politics".