

Trump proposes expansion of G7

Donald Trump proposed the expansion of G7 countries and said Australia, India, South Korea, and Russia should be included. Trump suggested that the G7 be called G10 or G11. "I am postponing it because I don't feel that as a G7, it properly represents what's going on in the world... It's a very outdated group of countries," he said. Group of 7 is an intergovernmental organization consisting of seven largest IMF economies. Currently, its members are Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, UK, US.
